Dear Peter –

It was very thoughtful of you to approach us at our Children's Museum to discuss putting an exhibit in place to teach children critical skills they need to be safe and productive members of our community.

As we discussed, we will provide a room for you to set up a desk with a couple of dummy telephones and a small TV/VCR, along with some old, perhaps outdated, sheriff's department shirts and hats.

This room will be used for you, as you volunteered to do on Saturday's or school breaks, the following activities:

- Role play how to call 911 in case of emergency
- Understand the rules and importance of bike safety
- Understand the rules and importance of gun safety
- Present Child I.D. programs, including fingerprinting/photographing, with parents permission
- Present basics of crime scene investigations, including the use of DNA, etc.

Other members of the OC Sheriff's office may offer to present similar programs, as approved by the Children's Museum Executive Director.

We look forward to our OC Sheriff's Department presenting these important programs in enjoyable activity format, contributing to safe kids and a safer community!

Thank you for your interest, dedication, and desire to serve in a volunteer capacity, Peter. We look forward to working with you.

Sincerely

Marlene Brown
